"Won't you come in?" Irene was saying. Her voice was sweet and musical, but there was a note of sadness in it which set responsive chords atremble all through Edith's heart. Must she love this woman? Must she, in spite of herself, love this, of all women?

"I am Edith Duncan," she managed to say. "I—I think I have something to say that may interest you."

There was a quick leap in Irene's eyes; the leap of that intuitive feminine sense of danger which so seldom errs when dealing with its own sex, and is yet so unreliable a defence in dealing with the other dangers from the other. Mrs. Hardy was in the living-room. "Won't you come up to my work shop?" Irene said without change of voice, and they ascended the stairs together.

"I draw a little," Irene was saying, talking fast. "Oh, yes, I have quite commercialized my art, such as it is. I draw pictures of shoes, and shirt waists, and other women's wear which really belong to the field of a feminine artist. But I haven't lost my soul altogether. I dash in color a little—yes, daub, that's the word. But it keeps one's soul alive. You will hardly recognize that," she said, indicating an easel, "but here is the original." She ran up the blind of the window which looked from the room out to the westward, and at over the brown shoulders of the foothills rose the Rockies, majestic, calm, imperturbable, their white summits flashing in the blaze of autumn sunshine. "No warfare there," Irene went on. "No plotting, no cruelty, no cowardice, no misunderstanding. And to think that they will stand there forever; forever, as we know time; when our city, our civilization, the very memory of our age shall have gone out. I never look at them without feeling how—how—how—"

She trembled, and her voice choked; she put out her arm to a chair. When she turned her face there were tears on it. . . . "Tell me, — Edith," she said. . . . "You know."

"I know some things," Edith managed to say. "I know, now, that I do not know all. Dave and I are old friends—my father took a liking to him and he used often to be in our house—he made him think of our own boy that was killed and would have been just his age — and we got to know each other very well, and he told me about you, long ago. And last night I found him at his rooms, almost mad, and swearing to shoot Conward. And then he told me that —that—"

"Yes? yes? What did he tell you? I am not afraid——"

Edith turned her eyes to where the white crests of the mountains cut like a crumpled keel through a sea of infinite blue. "He told me he saw Conward here . . upstairs . . . and Conward made a boast. . . and he would have shot him but you rushed upon him and begged him not to. He said you would have taken the bullet yourself rather than it should find Conward."

"Oh, oh," the girl cried, in the pain of one mortally hurt. "How could he think that? I didn't care for him — for Conward — but for Dave. I knew there had been a quarrel—I didn't know why—and I knew if Dave shot him—and he can shoot — I've seen him break six bottles out of six on the gallop—it wasn't self-defence—whatever it was he couldn't plead that —and they'd hang him, and that was all I saw, Edith, that was all I saw, and I would, yes, I would rather have taken the bullet myself than that that should happen——"

"You poor girl!" said Edith. "You poor girl," and her arms found the other's neck. "You have been hurt, hurt." And then, under her breath, "More than me."

: : : "What has he done?"

"He talked his problems over with me, and after he had talked awhile he became more reasonable. He had already been convinced that he should offer his services to his country, in these times. And I think I persuaded him that it was better to leave vengeance where it belonged. He said he couldn't remain here, and he had already left for England. I am afraid I encouraged him to leave at once. You see, I didn't understand."

Irene had taken a chair and for some minutes she sat in silence. "I don't blame you," she said at length. "You gave him good advice. And I don't blame him, although he might have been less ready to jump at conclusions. There remains only one thing for me to do."

"What?" said Edith, after a moment's hesitation.

"Follow him! I shall follow him, and make him understand. If he must go into battle — with all the means—he must go in knowing the truth. You have been very kind, Miss Duncan. You have gone out of your way to do me a great service, and you have shown more kindness than I have any right to claim from a stranger. I feel, too, the call for vengeance," she exclaimed, springing to her feet, "but first I must find Dave. I shall follow him at once. I shall readily locate him in some way through the military service. Everything is organized; they will be able to find his names."

She accompanied her visitor to the door. They shook hands and looked for a moment in each others eyes. And then Edith burst away and hurried down the street.

Irene had searched London for two weeks. The confidence of her earlier inquiries had diminished with each successive blind trail, which, promising results at first, led her into a maze of confusion and disappointment. The organization of the military service commanded less enthusiasm than she had felt a month before. She saw it struggling with the apparently impossible; it was as though she, in her little studio, had been suddenly called upon to paint all the portraits in the world. . . . In some degree she understood the difficulties. In equal degree she sympathized with those who were striving to overcome them and she hung on from day to day in her search with a dogged determination which set its teeth against admitting that the search was hopeless. Her little store of money was fast dwindling away; she looked into the face of every man in uniform with a pathetic earnestness that more than once caused her to be misunderstood.

At last one great fear had settled upon her heart. It came upon her first suddenly on shipboard; she had resolutely thrown it out of her mind, but it had been knocking ever since for admittance, and more than once she had almost let it in. Suppose Dave should not enlist under his right name? In such a case her chance of finding him was the mere freak of accidental meeting; a chance not to be banked upon in a country already swarming with its citizen soldiery. . . . And yet there was nothing to do but keep on.

She had sought a park bench where groups of soldiers were continually moving by. The lights shone on their faces, and her own tired eyes followed them incessantly, always her ear was alert for a voice that shout set her heart a-pounding, and more than once she had thought she heard that voice; more than a score of times she had thought she had seen that figure with its stride of self-reliance, with strength bulging in every muscle. And always it had been to learn that she had been mistaken; always it had been to feel the heart sink just a little lower than before. And still she kept on. There was nothing to do but keep on.

Often she wondered how he would receive her. That cold look which had frozen his features when she seized the revolver in his hand, would it still sit there, too distant and detached to be scorned? Would she have it to-break down; must she, with the fire of her own affection thaw out an entrance through his icy aloofness? What cost of humiliation would be the price, and would even any price be accepted? She could not know; she could only hope and pray and go on.

As she turned her eyes to follow a group of men in uniform she became aware of a soldier sitting alone in the shadow a short distance away. Something about him caught her attention; his face was not discernible, and his figure was too much in the shadow to more than suggest its outline, but she found herself regarding him with an attentiveness that set her heart racing. Some strange attraction raised her from her seat; she took a step toward him, then steadied herself. Should she dare risk it again? And yet there was something. . . . She had a sudden plan. She would make no inquiry; no apology; she would walk nearby and call him by name. If that name meant nothing to him he would not even notice her presence, but if it should be——

She was within three paces. Still she could discern nothing definitely, but her pulses were raging more wildly than ever. They had deceived her before; could it be that they were deceiving her again?

"Dave," she said.

He turned quickly in his seat, the light fell on her face and he saw her; he was on his feet and had taken a step toward her. Then he stopped, and she saw his features harden as they had on that dreadful occasion which now seemed so long ago. Would he do it again? Would he? He did she must rush upon him. She must tell him now, she must plead with him, reason with him, prevail upon him at all costs.

British Minister Departs from China

Regarded As A Friend By Every Resident of the Far East

The coming and going of the foreign representatives is not often of interest to any but their own nations; but this is not true of the departure of the retiring British Minister, Sir John Jordan. He had spent 43 years in China and had risen from the lowest rank of a consular language student to the highest position in the gift of his government. He spent the last 14 years as minister in Peking, and came to be regarded as a friend by every resident of the Far East, irrespective of nationality. He was highly respected by the Chinese, even though he had known well how to maintain the interests of his own countrymen when they were in jeopardy. His long life in China has added much to the prestige of his country for fair dealing and upright living.

Naval Governor For New Zealand

Viscount Jellicoe is Appointed Governor General and Commander-In-Chief of Dominion

The Colonial office has announced that His Majesty King George has been pleased to appoint Admiral of Fleet Viscount Jellicoe to be Governor-General and Commander-in-Chief of the Dominion of New Zealand in succession of the Earl of Liverpool, who will shortly retire from that office. Lord Jellicoe was very warmly received in New Zealand last year during his naval tour, where he spent about six weeks.

In discussing Lord Liverpool's successor, the chief government newspaper, The Dominion, urged the appointment of an admiral in view of New Zealand's naval policy.

"There is obviously no reason why the King's representative should necessarily be an earl or a baron, as has been the case for the last thirty years," declares The Dominion, "and there is even less reason why the post should be used as a jumping-off place for the peerage by British party politicians. New Zealand does not want a purely ornamental governor-general, nor yet one with an ingrained and life-long habit of having a finger in the political pie." The Journal adds that a senior officer of the navy would make a good governor, since he could give some expert advice on naval defence.

The nomination method of appointing governors seems to suit the present organization of the Empire. But the governor ought to be a man of infinite tact, conscious that he occupies a somewhat anomalous position. He may have influence, but he must not try to rule. New Zealand has had governors of many types, and it has liked some of them much better than others. The governor who would be intolerable would be he who imagined that Downing Street had given him authority to direct the public affairs of the Dominion.

Ambassador For Dominion

Canada Will Likely Have Own Representative in U. S.

Discussions are in progress between the United States and Great Britain which give substantial promise of ending in an agreement by which Canada will be represented in Washington by a diplomatic agent of high rank.

Such representation is understood to be desired keenly both by Canada and the United States and to be unopposed by Great Britain. The conversations on the subject are described as being actuated by the wish of all concerned to facilitate negotiations between Canada and the United States on question in which Great Britain is interested only by the fact that Canada is one of her Dominions.

So far as can be learned, the only difficulty that has been encountered to date is in fixing the exact status and rank that the diplomat would have and in determining in advance so as to avoid any chance of friction concerning the relations that he would bear to the British ambassador in Washington. The prospects are that the Canadian representative would have wide freedom of action in matters directly affecting the Dominion. A decision on this point may be expected soon.

Subjects of interest common to the United States and Canada at present frequently meet with long delays in settlement because of the circuitous route they have to follow in the process of negotiation through the British embassy. If a direct exchange of views might be arranged,, it is thought by many officials, that much benefit would be derived by the United States and Canada and, indirectly, by Great Britain.

The duties would correspond in a large part with those of a high commissioner, and this is the title that may be given the new representative. During the war, Sir Richard Crawford, as a commercial attache of the British embassy, had Canadian possessions directly under his supervision, and was able to render an important service in the relations between the United States and Canada. It was partly because attention was called to the greater advantage of closer relations between the two countries that the proposal for an exchange of high ranking diplomatic representatives is now being urged.—N. Y. Evening Sun.

Development at Prince Rupert

New York capital has secured control of the lease of the Prince Rupert dry dock and plans big development work, included in which is the construction of twenty large oil tank steamers to cost approximately $36,000,000.

Enough for Her

"Do you think, dearest, that you could manage on my salary?" the fond youth asked.

"Why, yes, I think I could, darling," the sweet girl responded, "but how in the world would you get along?"

A man may be a failure without knowing it, but if he is a success he not only knows it himself, but lets everybody else know it.

Must Have Air "Harbors"

Before Commercial Aviation in Canada Can Progress

There can be little hope for progress in commercial aviation in Canada until the municipal or other governments start constructing 'harbors' for aeroplanes, with landing places and airdromes. This was the statement made by Lieut.-Col. W. G. Barker, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., etc., at the annual meeting of the Montreal Branch of the Aerial League of the British Empire, which was held in the ball room of the Ritz-Carlton, in the course of an address on aeronautical topics

In his address Lt.-Col. Barker, V. C., gave a sketch of the amazing growth of aviation during the war, from the days when airplanes had a speed of only sixty miles an hour, and a very limited time capacity for flying, with armaments running from rifles to revolvers.

From these beginnings, he said, the flying corps had developed machines capable of 130 miles an hour with a flying range of many hundreds of miles, and armaments of machine guns and bombs that made them so formidable war weapons.

"So greatly had the British airplane service developed," said Lt.-Col. Barker, "that if the war had lasted a few months longer the people of Berlin would have had a taste of the same aerial bombing warfare they had so ruthlessly carried on against British and French cities. They knew this, and it is altogether probable that this knowledge was a great influence in compelling the Germans to ask for the armistice that ended the war."

As a result of the war experience Lt.-Col. Barker said that an air convention had been held at Paris, when rules for air service had been laid down, and adopted by most European countries, and by Canada. The United States had not joined this convention, and as a result had no air rules. If such rules had been in force he felt certain that the recent disaster at Newark would have been avoided. He also welcomed the news that Canada was to have a military air force, which would utilize the services of the thousands of returned Canadian aviators, and prevent the loss to the Dominion of their invaluable experience.

Lt. Col. Barker pointed out especially the value of the air service in keeping up communications and carrying mails, and said that the recent great railway strike in England had largely been defeated by the mobilization of the Royal Air Force.

The trouble in Canada was that they had air regulations without air machines, but he hoped to see development along military, commercial and industrial lines, if only a supply of "harbors" for airplanes could be established. It was the lack of such accommodation, he said, that put Montreal behind other large Canadian cities in aerial development.

The Oldest Name

Three commercial travellers met at the hotel one winter evening and had a hearty supper together. The supper over, the three found some difficulty in allotting their prospective shares of the bill; but one of them at length cut short the dispute that whoever had the "oldest name" among them should go free — the expense being halved by the other two. This being promptly accepted. No. 1 produced a card inscribed "Richard Eve," which no. 2 met with "Adam Brown." Then no. 3, a portly veteran with a humorous gray eye, laid down his card with the quiet confidence of a great general making a decisive movement and remarked with a chuckle, "I don't much think you'll beat this 'un, gents." And he was right, for the name was "Mr. B. Ginning."

Alberta's Growth

Some idea of the progress that the province of Alberta has made during the past seven years, may be gleaned from the statistics as obtained by the staff of the Wrigley Directory, Limited. This information shows that no less than 593 villages and settlements have been established since 1913. In that year a report on the province was secured, which showed that a total of 1,272 cities, towns, villages and settlements had been created, while today, Alberta can boast of 1,870.

Says She Cannot Praise Them Enough

MRS. GAUVIN TELLS OF DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

She Says Her Back Was So Weak She Could Hardly Walk, But Now She Is A Different Person.

St. Jeane d'Arc, N.B.—May 3rd—(Special)— Among those in this neighborhood who are enthusiastic in their praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. Joseph Gauvin, a highly respected resident here.

"I cannot praise Dodd's Kidney Pills enough," Mrs. Gauvin states. "My back was so weak I could hardly walk. I took six boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and now I feel a different person.

"Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a tremendous amount of good."

Of the many persons paying their tribute of praise to Dodd's Kidney Pills, it is noticeable that the great majority are women. The reason given for this is that the majority of women's ills come from the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Healing and strengthening them, they enable the kidneys to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood is the foundation of health.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not help weak or sick kidneys.

Saskatchewan's Egg Industry

Export Business Has Been Steadily Increasing During the Past Year

At one time Regina, Saskatchewan, was a large importer of eggs and poultry, but now it is sending both to the markets of Eastern Canada, and also to the Pacific coast. According to the reports of L. T. McDonald, Commissioner of the Board of Trade of Regina, there were 900 cases of eggs shipped from this city during the week ending April 17. In each case there were 30 dozen eggs. This large export business has been steadily increasing during the past year and it is estimated that the farmers in the neighborhood who are raising poultry are earning a good sum of money in the business. The market demand for eggs continues to be good and there is practically no trouble in disposing of all the available supply.

Desert Land and Desert Sea

A portion of the journey between Sydney, the New South Wales capital, and Broken Hill, the mining heart of Australia, lies over waterless, and hot country. Lieutenant Sydney Pickles, who has shown the feasibility of an air service between the two cities, saw no landmark as he crossed the barren stretch and so had to use his compass. Describing the pioneer flight, he compared the interminable rolling land before him to the gray, lonely wastes of the North Sea, which he had patrolled in his seaplane.

The Saskatchewan Elevator Company have purchased a site at Portage La Prairie to build an elevator with a capacity of a million bushels, and a flour mill will be added later.

Will Develop Salt Deposits

Company Erecting Large Plant Near Pustlier, Sask.

Recently Dr. John A. Allan, professor of geology of the University of Alberta, accompanied by J. O. Williams of Soda Deposits, Ltd., which has its head office at Pustlier, Sask., visited the immense deposit of Glauber Salts in this district to prepare a report for the public utilities of commission of Alberta, as to the advisability of opening up these deposits on a commercial scale. It is estimated that the field comprises some 50 acres.

Dr. Allan is not prepared to make any detailed statements other than the nature and quality of the deposit would warrant development. The deposit is of particular interest, as it opens up the possibilities of not only Glauber salts, but also other soluble salts, including potash and magnesia at this or other points. Dr. Allan expects to be working in western Saskatchewan and would give any assistance or information possible to persons reporting the presence of such minerals.

J. O. Williams, who has his headquarters in Calgary in the meantime, states that operations will commence early in May and that they expect to handle 30 tons a day to start with. The company will erect a plant 50 feet by 100 feet at the mine, together with accommodations for their men, consisting of three boarding houses and a cook house. Mr. Williams has been looking over the townsite with the view to locating offices and warehouse buildings.

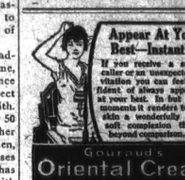

The intention at present is to use a line of heavy motor trucks for the transportation. Mr. Williams is well pleased with the district and expects great developments.

A Terrible Penalty

frequently follows the neglect of an injury. Germs and dust get into the wound, it begins to fester, blood-poisoning sets in, and sometimes the loss of a limb is the result.

Safeguard yourself against such a possibility by applying Zam-Buk at once. This antiseptic balm destroys all germs and prevents festering and blood-poisoning. Then the healing essences promote the growth of new tissue and it is not long before the wound is completely healed.

Zam-Buk should be kept handy in every home, office, store and factory for cuts, scratches, burns, scalds and bruises. It is equally good for eczema, rashes, boils and ulcers. All dealers, 50c. box.

Air Force Applications

Fifty and Sixty A Day For Enlistment in Canadian Air Force

Applications are going in at the offices of the Air Board at Ottawa, at the rate of fifty and sixty a day for enlistment in the new Canadian Air Force. All the applications are from ex-officers in the Royal Air Force. Preparations are already under way at Camp Borden, Ontario, for the establishment of the first training camp of the force. Officers of the new force will train at camp Borden in periods of a month or so at a time. There are adequate facilities there for the training of nearly three thousand men at a time. The equipment installed by the Royal Air Force at Camp Borden has been taken over by the Canadian Government for the use of the Canadian force, including eighteen hangars and substantial permanent building. The building of this flying base cost the Imperial government $1,000,000 and comprises an up-to-date aerodrome and barracks.

London Bridge

Old Roman Roads Used London Bridge For Crossing From North to South

Explaining the why and wherefore of London Bridge, Hillaire Belloc, the English author, said that the River Thames, in its double character of highway and obstacle, had made London. All the great Roman roads had used London Bridge for crossing from north to south. London Bridge was in its present position for four reasons: It is nearly the highest point where seagoing boats can tranship goods. It is the spot where an outcrop of gravel on the northern bank is opposite only a small deposit of alluvial mud on the southern bank. At Erith, Gravesend and Tilbury the "hard" on one bank is opposite vast fields of alluvial mud on the other and as the river is broader the difficulties in the way of bridge construction were greater. The bluff of the city, though small, offered in early times a fine strategic position for defence. London, alone of European towns, has not suffered from war for nine centuries, and has never undergone a siege since the barbaric age.

$100 An Acre Paid For Farm

W. D. Craig, of Regina, has just completed the purchase of a fully equipped section of land seven miles south of the city. The purchase price is reported to be more than $60,000 or approximately $100 an acre. Mr. Craig will put 400 acres in crop on the section this year, making a total of 1,800 acres of his holdings under crop. The section was practically bought for cash.

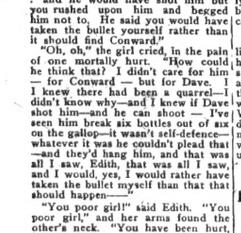

Even those who haven't any eye for beauty appreciate a handsome income.

Tractors for Road Making

Consent of Government to Use Tractors Free of Duty

J. F. Johnston, M.P. for Last Mountain, who has had several interviews with the minister of customs in an endeavor to get the government to allow municipalities to import tractors for road-making purposes free of duty and also to allow farmers who own tractors to use them for road-making purposes, has been advised that the government has acceded to his wishes in respect to the latter.

A circular has been issued to the customs officers, which will permit farmers who own tractors which have been brought in free of duty for farm purposes to use them in road making within their own municipality.

In the Spring Time

Any fool knows enough to carry an umbrella when it rains, but the wise man is he who carries one when it is only cloudy. Any man will send for a doctor when he gets bedfast, but the wiser one is he who adopts proper measures before his ills become serious. During a hard winter or the following spring one feels run-down, tired out, weak and nervous. Probably you have suffered from a cold, the Grip or flu, which has left you thin, weak and pale. This is the time to put your system in order. It is time for house-cleaning.

A good, old-fashioned alterative and temperance tonic is one made of wild roots and barks, without the use of alcohol, and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form. This is nature's tonic, which restores the tone of the stomach, activity of the liver and steadiness to the nerves, strengthening the whole system. First put up by Dr. Pierce over 50 years ago, now procurable at any drug store; or send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Laboratory, Bridgeburg, Ont., for trial package.

Canned Whitefish For Alberta

A Cannery Will Soon be in Operation On the Shores of Lake Athabasca

Canned whitefish from Lake Athabasca, in Northern Alberta, will likely be the next new idea in Alberta food products. Arrangements are under way for opening up the cannery on the far northern water, which is to form a part of the operations of the Mackenzie Basin Fisheries company. This concern was incorporated last year to take over the fishing interests of R. W. Jones on Lesser Slave Lake. The capital stock has been increased from $100,000 to $200,000, the intention being to prosecute the northern fisheries on an extensive scale, as well as Lake Athabasca.

A cannery site has been secured on Lake Athibasca, and some of the new capital is to be used in getting a plant ready for operation at as early a date as may be found possible. The remoteness of the northern fishing grounds and the lack of transportation facilities at the present time, are reasons for the company's decision to establish a cannery, tinned fish being more easily taken to market under existing conditions.

Nurses Made Record

Not Half Been Told of the Bravery and Fearlessness of Nurses

The seventeenth annual convention of the Graduate Nurses' Association of Ontario was held at Ottawa.

"Some aspects of war nursing," was the subject of an address delivered by Miss M. C. MacDonald, R.R.C., matron-in-chief R.C.A.M.C., Nova Scotia. Matron MacDonald said that never during the war was it necessary to ask for volunteers in nursing. The blighting influence of the money question never entered into their calculations. Honors were granted by the King, but these were regarded as more or less accidents and as of necessity being limited in number. Of the bravery and fearlessness of the nurses not half had been told, she avowed, and gave an instance of what occurred in her own office the morning after the hospital ship Llandovery Castle was sunk by submarine action.

"The descendants of Florence Nightingale are not all dead, I met a few of them in the course of the war," said Miss MacDonald.

Matron MacDonald paid exceedingly high tribute to "a son of this province, the warm friend of all nurses and their necessities, a noble man whose daily usefulness often exceeded the life-work of some men, the late Sir William Osler."

Dust From Other Worlds

The floor of the ocean is covered in many parts with the dust of meteorites. These bodies whirl about in the heavens like miniature comets, and are, for the most part, broken into innumerable fragments. We are all familiar with these heavenly visitants as shooting stars, but it has been only lately discovered that this cosmic layer of dust forms layers at the bottom of the deepest seas.

Between Honolulu and Tahiti, at a depth of 2,350 fathoms — over two miles and a half—a vast layer of this material exists. Falling upon land this impalpable dust is undistinguishable; but accumulating for centuries in the deep sea depths, it forms a wondrous story of the continuous bombardment of this planet by cometary bodies.

Mental Hospital For South Sask.

What will be probably the biggest contract let by the Saskatchewan government this year has been advertised. This is for the mental hospital for the southern part of the province, to be located at Weyburn. At the last session the provincial assembly voted $600,000 as this year's share of the cost of construction, and it is expected that the building will take two years to complete.

The Great Profiteer

Landhog Who Buys All the Land He Can And Withold It From Cultivation

A man came to me not long ago and said:

"I own 10,000 acres of land here in Kansas. I am not a criminal, am I?"

I told him there was nothing unlawful in that and I asked him what he was doing with that. He said:

"I am doing nothing with it except waiting for it to increase in value. I bought it for five and ten dollars an acre, and now it is worth $30 an acre. And I don't intend to sell a foot of it until it is worth $50 an acre."

I asked him if he was farming any of it. He said:

"No, not a foot of it. I don't expect to make anything by farming it; the growth in value will make me rich. What's the difference with that? Is there anything immoral about it?"

My contention is—and I told him so—that he had no more right to do that when people are land hungry, as they are, than he would have to impound all the water in the country and hold it until the people got thirsty enough to pay him a dollar a gallon for water to drink. I am not opposed to land-ownership, but I am opposed to the land hog who buys all the land he can and holds it to be enriched by the land hunger of the people. When the landhog gets hold of the land and withholds it from cultivation, he is exactly like the miser who gets hold of money and withholds it from circulation. He is the one profiteer who is trafficking in the thing upon which we build the foundations of the state's civilization.—J. H. Allen, governor of Kansas, in The Country Gentleman.

The Dangerous Match

Many Fire Losses Due to Employees Dropping Unextinguished Matches

Matches are the immediate cause of many of our largest fire losses and probably the majority of smaller fires could be traced to the same source.

More than one factory in Canada has gone down in ruins; many employees have been thrown out of employment, and their families have suffered want; many employers have seen the result of their life of work crumble—all the result of carelessness with matches. The number of fires in business places shortly after closing time is remarkable. Investigation has shown that these are nearly always due to employees dropping unextinguished matches after lighting pipes and cigarettes. Especially is this the case during the cold weather, when employees, regardless of "no smoking" rules, will "light up" before buttoning up their overcoats.

Many cases can be cited of fires caused by matches. For instance, the coat and vest of an employee were hanging in a draught, and the swaying of the clothes against the wall, ignited the matches in the vest pocket.

During the war, an inspector inadvertedly carried a match into an explosives plant, but, knowing the danger, he chewed the match up and swallowed it.

If but a fraction of this recognition of the danger of matches could be impressed upon workers, much of our fire waste would be avoided, and the work necessary to replace this loss could be devoted to more productive efforts.

Hints for Travellers

Some Etiquette For Guidence of the Sleeping Car Patrons

The following appeared in the Montreal Gazette:

Many years' experience of the petty annoyances caused by the minority composed of thoughtless, as well as selfish, persons travelling in sleeping cars has caused me to write the following, which may induce a few at least of the offenders to reform.

The necessarily small space in a sleeping car in comparison with an hotel suggests that the greater comfort to the sleeping car traveller will result from a fair regard for the rights and feelings of others by all sleeping car travellers.

So long as passengers desire to have their clothes brushed with a whisk, the space in the passageway at either end of the car is the only proper place for this practice to occur. The sleeping car company's instructions to the porters require them to ask passengers to go to the aisle at the end of the car if desiring to be brushed. Porters are merely human, therefore differ in their obedience to orders. Every traveller can assist in the observance of this rule (which was made for the general good) and prevent annoyances to other passengers. If the public want the brushing practice to cease altogether, the remedy is in their possession.

The combined lavatory and smoking-room is necessarily limited in capacity, and at the time in the morning when it has to be used as a lavatory, it is not intended to be used at all as a smoking-room.

Don't smoke in this room in the early morning when the other later risers than you are obliged to perform their toilets. You can defer your smoke. You are in the way and merely an annoyance to the majority, and show a selfish disregard for the rights of others. Under present conditions, get up late once in a well filled car, and your one experience of the man in the seat smoking will show you what other people think about your case at other times.

Don't bring in your suit-case to this room. Use a toilet "hold-all." Many men do. You can. Give the other fellows a chance of some room.

Don't whisk your clothes in this room if other people are present. They don't want to breathe your dust. They merely consider you are wanting in good manners.

Don't get up late and shave, if by so doing you discommode others. No one objects to a man shaving if he does not interfere unreasonably with other men who merely want to wash their face and hands, etc.

The instant you have finished your toilet get out of the room. You have no further right there while the other men require the room as a lavatory. They are anxious to see you go as quickly as you can. Don't stay in this room and crowd the later risers.

Don't whistle anywhere in a sleeping car. Your alleged music pleases only you. No one else wants to hear it. Most men think the whistler a nuisance.

Don't talk loudly in the body of the car when most people have retired to sleep. Their only interest in your conversation is to wish you somewhere else.

After nine a.m. usually the smoking-room is in use almost entirely for smoking purposes. Those who are not smoking should not occupy the room to the exclusion of those desiring to smoke.—An Old Traveller.

Naval Air Stations

The consummation of a scheme to establish a strong naval air station near Halifax is revealed in the announcement of the Canadian Air Board that it has placed an order in England for 153 flying boats of the type used during the war for submarine patrol in the North Sea. A DESIRE TO EAT WHAT YOU WANT

How Stomachs Can Be Restored To A Vigorous, Healthy Condition

Not to be limited in diet, but to eat whatever he pleases is the dream of every dyspeptic. No one can honestly promise to restore any stomach to this happy condition, because all people cannot eat the same things with equally satisfactory results. It is literally true that "what is one man's food is another man's poison." But it is possible so to tone up the digestive organs that a pleasing diet may be selected from articles of food that cause no discomfort.

When the stomach lacks tone there is no quicker way to restore it than to build up the blood. Good digestion without rich, red blood is impossible, and Dr. Williams Pink Pills offer the very best way to build up and enrich the blood. For this reason these pills are especially good in stomach trouble attended by thin blood, and in attacks of nervous dyspepsia. Proof of the value of Dr. Williams Pink Pills in even the most obstinate cases of stomach trouble is given by Mrs. S. Morrison, Varney, Ont., who says:—"I shall always feel indebted to a friend who advised me to use Dr. Williams Pink Pills. I had been a sufferer for upwards of twelve years with stomach trouble which resulted in a general weakness of the whole system. My meals always caused me great discomfort, and at times I would go hungry rather than undergo the suffering which followed meals. I was constantly taking something or other recommended for the trouble, but without finding a cure, and often the trouble kept me in bed when I should have been about doing my housework. My friend, who had had a similar attack came to see me and urged me to try Dr. Williams Pink Pills which had cured her. I got a supply at once and began taking them, and soon found relief. By the time I had used eight boxes I was again enjoying the best of health, and with a good appetite and a stomach restored to normal. Had I know of this medicine earlier it would have saved me years of suffering, and I urge any who may be in a similar condition to try these pills at once."

You can get Dr. Williams Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Anglo-Japanese Alliance

Will Serve Purpose of Preserving the Peace of the World

The Tokio newspaper Jiji, discussing the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, brings in the name of the United States in a very significant manner. It says that any new alliance will mean the continuance of Japan's co-operation with the Anglo-Saxon race, and friendship between Japan, Great Britain and America will be universally recognized. "In other words, it will practically be a triple alliance designed to preserve the peace of the world." No sensible Japanese or American ever thinks of war between Japan and the United States, the newspaper proceeds. If complications should ever occur between the two countries, they will surely be settled by ordinary methods in a manner satisfactory to both parties.

The Jiji deprecates any talk of the possibility of serious misunderstanding, and asserts that the wishes and intentions of the Japanese are entirely friendly to the United States. It quotes with much approval the recent opinions expressed in an Italian newspaper to the effect that "Japan will maintain a good understanding with America, as she has maintained friendly relations with Italy and France." This, says the Japanese journal, is a true echo of the national sentiment.

The world war has not made the position of Great Britain in the Orient very safe, proceeds the Jiji, nor has it caused any noticeable change in Japan's position. Both Japan and Great Britain will have to feel the menace of a Russo-German alliance, it says, and besides safeguarding the interests of the two countries, the Anglo-Japanese alliance will serve the purpose of preserving the peace of the world. —From the Hamilton Spectator.

Horse Market Improves

Northwestern States Report Big Demand and Higher Prices

There has been a marked improvement in livestock conditions in the northwest during the past few months. This applies especially to horses and mules, although improved conditions in the sheep, hog and cattle industries are noticeable. It is of the horse that I wish to write, for the reaction in sentiment toward the faithful animal is almost revolutionary.

During the past three years there has been a craze for tractors and trucks and automotive power. Demonstrations costing tens of thousands of dollars have been held throughout the northwestern states and an extensive advertising campaign has been carried on. "Old Dobbin" had no one to boost for him. There were no page advertisements in farm journals and no demonstrations covering a week at a time to show what the horse could do. People began to believe the fairy tales told by the sales agents of tractors and trucks and regarded the horse as doomed and about to be supplanted by automotive power.

I have been making some extended investigations as to the true conditions and the revelations are really surprising. Instead of automotive power replacing the horse and mule on the farms of the northwest, the number of machines is so small as to be entirely negligible, while the number of work horses allows only a slight decrease from formers years. The startling part of the disclosure is in the marked decrease in young horses and mules showing that the motor propaganda has had the evil effect of reducing the breeding of work animals to a noticeable and almost dangerous extent. Farmers are awakening to this condition and have already begun planning to raise more horses and mules for farm work for future needs. The motor bogey for farm work has been demonstrated to be a myth.

A few days ago I attended a sale at a 640 acre farm, which the owner has rented and is leaving. He had been using trucks and tractors. I thought that he had a "horseless" farm and mentioned it to him. He declared "there is no such thing as a horseless farm and never will be. I use a tractor, trucks and automobiles, but they do only a small portion of the work. There will never be a time when successful farming can be carried on without horses." At the sale he sold 19 horses and 19 mules with which he had been farming. His trucks and tractors were mere side issues. His work geldings brought $225 to $265 each and his mules from $100 for short yearlings to $247 for work mules.

There was a sale of horses at Pullman, Wash., a short time ago, and the average price on 51 head was $445. Last week at a farm sale in Idaho county work horses brought $325 to $415 each. Buyers from Canada recently shipped several carloads of unbroken range horses picked up in Idaho, for which they paid an average of $110 per head. Last year they could not have been sold for $30 per head.

Farmers and horsemen are becoming alarmed over conditions and see a serious shortage of work horses in the next few years due to the failure to breed mares during the past three years. Today there is a greater demand for good stallions and jacks than there has been for five years, and a united effort is to be made to replace the diminishing stock of work horses. The fear of the tractor and truck have been dispelled and people are again turning to the horse.

A certain lumber company a few years ago sold the horses used in the lumber yards and logging camps and replaced them with trucks and donkey engines. For several months the company has been buying work horses to replace the tractors and trucks.

Good Type of Settlers

More than 1,000 immigrants passed through Winnipeg in one week recently, according to the immigration commissioner. Most were from the British Isles, though many came from the devastated regions of France and Belgium. The type of settlers, he states, is better than ever before, and the majority intend buying and operating their own farms.

The detailed surveys made by the Dominion Government have been confirmed by an eminent consulting irrigation engineer.

Died

The eight month's old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Thomas died last night, after a severe illness.

The Late Chas. Grandall

The death took place of Charles Crandall at his place near Clive, on Thursday, April 22nd after an attack of flu, pneumonia supervening.

Deceased was 33 years of age, was a well kownn farmer in our community, and his death is regretted by many friends. Having sold his place in the Bismark district, Mr. Crandall acquired a section near Clive, and had only moved down a week ago. He had a strenuous time, and paid little heed to what was considered a cold, and it was only a day or two after taking to bed that the end came.

He was a hard working industrious farmer, was doing well and his prospects were of the best.

Besides Mrs. Crandall, he leaves six children, his parents, living in Washington, four brothers and four sisters Marcus and Jessie being the only two residing in this district. Marcus has been indefatigable looking after his late brother's affairs.

The funeral took place on Saturday from the Union Church, Ponoka, and was largely attended.

Lacombe Bull Sale

The largest bull sale ever held at Lacombe takes place on May 26th to 28th under the direction of the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association. Last year, 61 Shorthorn bulls were offered as against 158 entered this year; 65 Herefords were offered as against 100 this year, and 8 Aberdeen-Angus last year as against 38 this year, making a total of 134 offered last year, and 326 this year.

In addition to using all of the accomodation available at the Lacombe Agricultural Society's grounds, about 150 bulls will have to be stabled under canvas.

These bulls are contributed from all parts of Alberta, and will include some excellent herd breeders, as well as range bulls.

The judging will take place on Wednesday morning, May 26th, and the sale will start with Shorthorns at 1.30 p.m. the same day and will be continued on the 27th, the Aberdeen-Angus and Herefords being sold after the Shorthorns, in the order named.

Catalogues may be obtained by applying to R. L. Richardson, secretary of the Alberta Cattle Breeders' Association, Calgary.

Big Show Coming

On next Friday evening, May 7, the Big Musical Show "A Night in Honolulu, of 15 people will play an engagement at the Comet Theatre in Lacombe. This is a really good and meritorious show playing under the direction of the Trans-Canada Theatrical Circuit which embraces every city and town from Halifax to Vancouver.

This company played at the Walker Theatre in Winnipeg 2 weeks ago, to crowded houses and all the newspapers praised the performance highly.

A troup of realNative Hawaiians will sing and play some of their wonderful music, music that one never forgets after once hearing it. Princess Lei-Kela a real native girl will introduce a series of artistic dances that are highly pleasing and entertaining.

The acting company is headed by Miss Una Carpenter, a sweet girl who plays "Kalama". Another talented girl is Miss Jane Rose, who plays the part of "Sonia" others are Frances Dowling., Hazel Baker, Lester Smith, Milton Goodhand, Russell Huffman, and Thos. Keeney. On account of the bridges being washed away on the Drumheller-Calgary line, the tour was changed hence, the reason for the late advertising in Lacombe; but this will be without a doubt the biggest amusement ever brought here.

Hon. R. C. Mitchell Appointed Minister of Municipal Affairs and Health of the Alberta Gov't

The portfolio of minister of municipal affairs and public health, rendered vacant by the death of the late Hon. A. G. MacKay, were filled on Friday by the appointment of Hon Charles R. Mitchell.

In connection with above appointment the premier authorizes the statement that it is not his present intention to permanently allocate these departments to a minister, as it appears that the question of the transfer of the natural resources to the Western provinces would shortly be dealt with in which event a re-arrangement of the provincial portfolios would be necessary.

Minutes of the Joeffre Local U. F. A.

On April 21st, 1920, the Joeffre Local U.F.A. held a special meeting for the purpose of discussing the erection of a U.F. A. building or store at Joeffre siding on the C.N.R.

Although the weather and the roads are considerable worse than the previous meeting of April 14th, there was a good atendance, 3 new members being added to the previous list.

President S. Leader was in the chair and opened the meeting with a few appropriate words.

Upon his own verbal request, Mr. John Russell resigned from the office of secretary-Treasurer, and when voted on by the members, his resignation was accepted. Albert Robertson was appointed in his place.

The president then called for nominations for members of a board of directors. Mrs. John Russell, and F. Browner were appointed as directors.

It was decided in all fairness to the community at Brooksley that the remaining nominations be left over until a meeting was held at Brooksley, or a representation from there be present.

After a series of discussions on the proposed buildindg as to cost of property, size of building suitable, cost of material, and construction, the issuing of debentures, shares, etc., it was decided that a delegation be sent to merchants at Lacombe regarding the erection and maintenance of the aforementioned store.

Messrs. Leader and A. Robertson were appointed to act as delegates and are to report at the next meeting, which is to be held at the Brooksley school on May 6th.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Albert Robertson, Sec.-Treas.

Sunday May 9th.

The Rimbey Riot

It is with the deepest feelings of regret that we this week record a disgraceful occurence in the peaceful little village of Rimbey. As is well know there is some discontent in that burg over the location of the railway station and the consequent location of a new townsite near the same. For some time the citizens have been very much annoyed about this matter, and they let their feelings run wild. On Saturday morning 24th ult., sometime between midnight and daylight, a gang of citizens entered and wrecked the offices of the Rimbey Pioneer Newspaper and the MacGillivray Realty Co. the cause being the advertising of the new townsite by the MacGillivray Co. Both business places were completely wrecked, the damage running into the thousands of dollars. Barney Halpin who was managing the Rimbey Pioneer, on discovering the work of the wreckers on Saturday morning, immediately phoned the police here and Const. Collett procured a speeder and was on the scene early in the day. After a little quiet investigation he picked up Roy Edwin Shrieves, of the Frizzell Hardware Co.; H. A. Chase, also connected with that institution; Joseph Marshall, Frank A. Peabody, and Jesse Loyd, Jr. As Const. Collett had his hands full, he sent in for assistance, and Detective Bruce was sent out. After being under arrest for a few hours, the suspects expressed a desire to confess, but the constables would not take any statement from them. In the evening of Monday, they appeared for a preliminary hearing before before M. C. Platt, J. P., Mr. Matheson, barrister of Rimbey appearing on their behalf., and ably defending them. The prisoners again expressed their desire to make a statement, and after being fully warned, they stated that they were guilty of the damage done, were willing to make good the damage done, and asked for a speedy trial before a judge. The case not being in the jurisdiction of a J.P., the prisoners were sent for trial at the next court of criminal jurisdiction, the charge being "That they did jointly and together, on April 23rd, 1920, by night, wilfully destroy the contents of the printing office of the Rimbey Pioneer newspaper and the MacGillivray Realty Co." The charge was laid under Sec. 510 of the Criminal Code of Canada. Const. Collett reports that after he had made the first arrests, everything was easy, as the names of the others in the scrape were given him. The accused were admitted on bail of $2000 each to appear in court when called.

This trouble started about two weeks ago, so far as the Rimbey Pioneer is concerned, when the MacGillivray Realty Co., wished to advertise the new townsite. As a matter of business, it was decided to take any and all kinds of advertising as a real newspaper should. Then some busybody got to work and circulated a petition asking the business men to withdraw their support from the paper. A few of the business men were small enough to be influenced, but the majority of them gave the meddler the answer deserved and stayed with the paper. And then the agitation kept on, gaining momentum daily, until on Friday, a bunch decided on a practical joke. It was the intention to get a teamster in the village to hitch up some time after midnight, and then take the contents of the Pioneer Office and MacGillivray's office down to a lot in the new town. They say no damage was intended when they started out. But when they arrived at the printing office, they found that the man who had promised the team and wagon was not on hand, having got cold feet, and not to be done out of their night's amusement, they proceeded to smash things up. The press was broken, type thrown out in the road, the furniture wrecked, office windows broken, in fact everything that could be broken or otherwise destroyed came in for full attention.

There is only one thing in connection with this affair that we are not satisfied with. The parties responsible for this outbreak, those parties who by continually agitating and making veiled threats worked upon the feelings of their fellow citizens to such an extent that they did not stop at committing crime, are getting off free. The manager of the Rimbey Pioneer could have several parties arrested in this matter, parties just as guilty as those now committed, and while it might give some satisfaction, no good end could be accomplished by bringing them before the courts. We hope that Rimbey's businessmen and business women, will now see the danger of agitating, and come to the conclusion that when a thing does not suit them they set about to right it in the right manner. Lawlessness does not pay in Alberta, and we hope Rimbey has got its' lesson.

Lincoln News

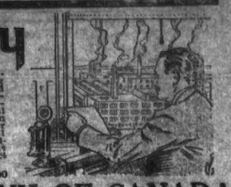

The petition which was being circulated by Mr. Thos. A. Dutton for a loading platform at Aspen Beach, South end of Gull Lake was forwarded to the Minister of Railways a few weeks ago and we are pleased to report that Mr. Dutton's efforts have not proved in vain as we are informed that a reply has been received to the covering letter stating that "work on the construction in the course of two or three weeks." This is good news for the residents of this end of the district and no doubt many people will avail themselves of the opportunity to load grain etc., at this point instead of making a longer haul.

Now that a loading platform is to be constructed why not go a little further and try to obtain an elevator at this point.

Mr. C. M Carter assisted by Mr. Bates has been very busy building on the new piece of land recently purchased by him. Mr. Bates will we understand shortly take up his residence there.

A umber of people intended going down to Spruceville U.F.A. Hall on Tuesday, April 27th to hear Mr. Mulloney talk about grasses, for pasture, but owing to the fast that no one in the district had a boat handy, these people were forced to swallow their disappointment and remain at home

The mails are late these days on our route, but the patrons do not growl. The Courier has a hard time getting here at all, but if all the looked for improvements to the roads are made during the coming season, we will have better luck in future.

Mr. John Wilson has been very busy cutting a supply of firewood with engine and buzz saw during the week.

Mr. H. Jewel is hauling a supply of wood for the year and we have no doubt that he wishes he had remained in the United States a little longer where he was able to enjoy warm sunny weather.

Not very much is being done in the district just at present. The trails are too bad for travel. If present conditions continue, boats will be the best things to use.

Geese have been seen flying north which is supposed to be a sure sign of spring, we hope they wont get disheartened and turn south again.

The meeting opened with a delightful rendering of "Beautiful Ohio" by Mrs. Parkes and Miss Matthias. Work was started for the Bazaar to be held in the fall, and several committees were appointed to carry out the arrangements. Mrs. Fred Miller gave a short talk on Curing Meats and Mrs. Elwell on Canning meats. After the business was completed, a very enjoyable social time was spent. The young folk entertaining with music, both vocal and instrumental. A very pleasing feature of the meeting was the presence of children, nine little totts accompanying their mothers and all of them as good as gold. Home Vs. Screen

Priscilla Dean, a star of the "Silk-Lined Burglar" invariably plays heroines of emotional type—"wild," as she expresses it. At home however, she is quite a different sort of person. Gelett Bugress, who wrote the story on which one of her previous successes, "The Two-Soul Woman," was based, observing this fact, sent her the following:

"There was a young star, named Priscilla,
Who at home was as sweet as vanilla
But you never can tell,
For she acted like —well?
When she played in a cinema thrilla."

Miss Dean thought the limerick very clever except for one thing. Replying to Burgess she chided him for calling a "movie" a cinema.

"Of course, I know you needed a 3 legged word for your meter," she wrote "but even that wont excuse you. 'Movie' is an American word, while 'cinima' came from France via England.

Floods Delay C.P.R. Trains on Edmonton Line.

Some little trouble was caused by floods on the C.P.R. line north of Ponoka Tuesday night, the water breaking through at three points. The train which left at noon for Edmonton was delayed 4 hours and 50 minutes. The officials state that the line was clear for traffic at midnight.

High water at Gwynne, east of Wetaskiwin, also caused the C.P.R. some concern, the Edmonton-Winnipeg train being delayed 1 hour and 45 minutes. This washout has now been repaired. All the company's other lines at the present are open.

The further storm is militating against the Canadian National Railways rapidly proceeding with the work that is being carried out on the Drumheller line. The officials state the line has not yet been opened as far as Rockyford and communication is only still established between here and Ardenode. Wednesday morning it was stated that it would be several weeks before the line was open for traffic between here and Drumheller.

The Grand Trunk report that there has been no further trouble in connection with washouts and that their trains are running on time.

TORTURED BY TERRIBLE ECZEMA

Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St, Pierre, P. Q.

"I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good.

Then, I used one box of 'Soothe-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Soothe-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives.'

'Fruit-a-tives' cooled the blood and removed the cause of the disease, and 'Soothe-Salva' completed the cure."

Rehabilitating the World

The Supreme Council of the League gress with the difficult task entrusted to it of disentangling the complex races which for so long have been held subject to the Sultan under the tyranny of the despotic and murderous Turks. Europe and Asia present many international, racial and religi of Nations is making substantial pro lous problems, but none quite so difficult of solution as that of the old Turkish empire. It is easy to criticize Great Britain and France because of the decision to leave the Turks in Constantinople, but it is not so easy to outline an alternative policy likely to prove successful and not prdvoke a still more serious situation, and one that might have far-reaching results of a disastrous character. However, the power of the Turk is destroyed, and an end is in sight to the long chapter of Ottoman misrule, rapine and murder.

Having been rescued from the domination of the Turks by the victorious British armies, Palestine and Mesopotamia have been entrusted to Great Britain to be administered under a mandate from the League of Nations, and a national home for the Jews is being established under the protection of the Union Jack. France is given a mandate for the administration of Syria, and the United States has been asked to accept the mandate for oppressed and downtrodden Armenia. Thus to the three most powerful of the allied nations, those enjoying the most democratic forms of government, and actuated by the loftiest ideals, is given the humane and civilizing work of bringing a new era of happiness and prosperity to millions of people who for centuries have been little more than slaves, with life and property in hourly danger of extinction by the unspeakable Turk.

In this column last week reference was made to the gigantic financial problems which must be solved by the people of Canada, and it is possible that before this appears in print the budget will have been presented at Ottawa and the policy of the Government indicated as to how the national obligations are to be met. It is inevitable that there must be a further increase in taxation, and Canadians must be prepared for it. But grave as our position in Canada may be, and heavy the burdens to be borne, they are slight in comparison to those of other lands and peoples.

The German budget was recently presented to the Reichstag. The financial burden which the people of Germany must meet in some form or another this year reaches the stupendous total of 52,500,000,000 marks, or, roughly speaking, $13,000,000,000, or more than four times the gross national debt of Canada. Dr. Wirth, the German Finance Minister, frankly admits he is at a loss to know how the money is to be raised or where it is to come from.

Italy is carrying an enormous debt. It was heavy before the war, and has been increased many times over. The government and people are meeting it courageously, and a loan of 20,000,000,000 lire has just been raised by the Italian people.

France, too, has recently floated a loan among its own people of 15,000,000,000 francs, or an amount equal to the national debt of Canada. The French parliament is now engaged in passing measures which will enormously increase the taxation imposed on the French people.

With a national debt of approximately $40,000,000,000, Great Britain has started on the great task of paying it off. No further borrowings will be made, but taxation is being substantially increased. This year British revenue is estimated at $7,000,000,000, or more than double our national debt. This great revenue will provide for a reduction in the British national debt of at least $1,000,000,000, while in 1921 it is estimated that a further reduction of $1,500,000,000 will be made.

Canada has not yet made a start at debt reduction; on the contrary the debt is still increasing. This must stop, and the work of liquidation of the national debt begun. It can only be accomplished by this Dominion following the example of other countries—curtailing expenditures wherever possible and increasing revenues by increasing taxation. The people must be prepared for this and must accept it without any complaint. There is no other way out. The longer the debt is allowed to stand, the heavier the burden will become. People realize this in their individual affairs; they must appreciate the fact that it is equally true in their national business.

Notwithstanding the wholesale destruction of the last five years, and the enormous burdens of debt and taxation which must now be borne, the world is still the gainer, because the Great War was the operation whereby the cancer of militarism and the ever-increasing burden of military and naval armaments was cut out of the world's body. The cost of the operation must now be paid for, but the cure affected will give renewed life and vigor to the world, and, by relieving it of an intolerable burden, will ultimately add to its prosperity and the comfort and happiness of all people.

THE BEST MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Thousands of mothers state positively that Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine they know of for little ones. Their experience has taught them that the Tablets always do just what is claimed for them and that they can be given with perfect safety to children of all ages. Concerning them Mrs. Joseph Therrien, St. Gabriel de Brandon, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets are the best medicine I know of for little ones. I thought I would lose my baby before trying the Tablets but they soon made him healthy and happy and now I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

No Distinction Shown In War Graves

Uniformity of Headstones for Generals and Privates Will be Carried Out in Britain

The war graves commission has decided unanimously on absolute uniformity of headstones for the graves of every man and woman who was killed or who died in the war. A plain design in portland stone has been selected, recording the name, regiment and rank, symbol of religious faith and the inscription which Kipling chose—"Their Name Lives Forever" — with room at the foot of the stone for an inscription limited to 66 words, to be personally chosen by those nearest the dead. This principal of equality, whether for field-marshal or camp follower, has the approval of the government.

Kipling and Winston Churchill, with other members of the commission, addressed a meeting of the army committee in the house of commons Kipling, with intensity of feeling, spoke in favor of absolute equality. He said the main object had been to aim at dignity and simplicity.

Mr. Churchill said that the whole spirit of the army was in favor of equality and uniformity.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON FOR MAY 9

ELI AND HIS SONS

I. The Wickedness of Eli and His Sons 2:12-17, 27-36.

1. Eli's sons (vv. 12-17, 22). The behavior of these sons is in strange contrast to that of the boy Samuel. Eli's sons were priests and ministered in the things of the sanctuary, but "knew not the Lord" (v. 12).

(1) Graft (vv. 12-17). This greed was practised upon the worshippers who brought their sacrifices to the sanctuary, according to God's law God ordained that the priests should have the breasts and shoulders of the animals which were brought to the altar (Ex. 29:27; Lev. 7:31, 32). The degenerate sons of Eli were not content with this, but demanded more and even sought to obtain it by force (v. 16). Moreover, they lifted out with a fork certain choice portions while raw, and had them roasted. Such behavior on the part of the priests was revolting to the worshippers and resulted in the abhorrence of the Lord's offerings.

2. Eli (vv. 27-36. Eli was seemingly a good man, but he seriously erred before God in that he failed to discipline his sons (vv. 22-24). He knew of their sins and was conscious of his obligation, but his fatherly heart led him into a sentimental indulgence; his love got the better of his judgment. Eli was content with a weak remonstrance. He was under obligations not merely to speak against it, but should have acted against it.

II. Eli and His Sons Punished (4:1-18).

They at last came to reap what they had sown. God has appointed a day of judgment (Acts 17-31). There is a harvest time for the sinner as well as for the righteous (Jas. 3:13). If one has sown to the wind he shall reap the whirlwind. The Phillistines made war upon Israel and defeated them with great slaughter. This judgment had been made known to Eli by a "man of God" (2:37 and Samuel (3:11-18). The Phillistines were instruments in the hands of God for this judgment.

1. The battle with the Phillistines (vv. 1-9). The Israelites made an unsuccessful attempt to free themselves from the oppression of the Phillistines Israel was smitten and some 4,000 were slain. This aroused them to inquire as to why the Lord had smitten them and to suggest that the ark be brought from Shiloh as a defence against the enemy. In this they committed two blunders; (1) The elders had no right to handle the ark; that belonged to the priests. Before taking such a step they should have sought the mind of God, and if it were his will that the ark be brought it should have been done by the priests. (2) It was a superstitious use of the ark, which was a symbol of God's presence. They ignorantly assumed that the presence of God inhered in the symbol, forgetting that he is the living God, who has a will and purpose of his own, and therefore will not give countenance to that which disagrees with his holy purpose and will. Professing Christians in this age commit a similar error when they substitute the sacraments of the church for the presence of God in the soul. The earth rang out with a great shout when the ark was brought into the camp and the enemy was struck with fear, for they knew what wonders God had wrought in times past. In their desperation they made a stand, calling upon their men to do their best. With their backs to the wall they fought and won the victory.

2. Israel's disastrous defeat (vv. 10-18. (1) The army was routed and a great slaughter occurred (v. 10); (2) the ark of God was taken (v. 10), the symbol of the divine presence with its sacred memories torn from their grasp and with it went Israel's hope; (3) Eli's sons slain (v. 10); the very priests who were the custodians of the ark were slain; (4) death of Eli the high priest (v. 18). The news of the defeat of the army and the death of his sons was awful, but when he heard that the ark of God was taken he died instantly.

To Superannuate Civil Servants

Retiring Fund Provided For in Proposed Ontario Legislation

Retirement from office of all civil servants who have reached the age of 70 years, is provided in a superannuation bill which was introduced by Premier Drury in the Ottawa legislature. All employees who have been 30 years in the service, or who are over 65 years of age, may be retired either at the option of the government or themselves. Superannuation allowances to a maximum of $2,000 yearly will be paid such retiring employees.

The superannuation fund will be made up by contributions from the civil service and the government. Employees will be required to pay into the fund a portion of their salary, ranging from 3-4 percent to 8 percent, according to age.

Employees under 26 pay the minimum and the rate increases for older employees.

The government will pay into the fund an amount equal to that deducted from employees' salaries, and will pay interest upon the fund at five percent. The province will bear the cost of administration of the scheme.

Canadian Ships Carried Nearly All Own Grain

Some interesting figures dealing with the total export of Canadian grains in Canadian ships as compared with the export in the United States vessels were given in the house in reply to a question from A. B. Copp, (Westmoreland). Sir George Foster said 95.55 percent of wheat exported was carried in Canadian bottoms as well as 85.94 percent of export oats, and 89.65 percent of barley.

Stock Raising in B.C.

Breeders of the Province Are Going In For Purebred Cattle

The breeding of purebred stock for export, is believed to be a coming industry in British Columbia. Development of this new industry is bringing new breeders into the province. New herds are being brought together, the owners of which have a guarantee that there will be an abundant market for blue-blooded cattle, not only locally and in the other provinces and adjoining states, but as well in Hawaii, Australia and New Zealand.

Several head of purebred Holstein cattle have been sent to Australia from British Columbia recently, and it is said that Australian stockmen are planning to send their representatives to Canada for the purpose of securing registered Hereford, Holstein and Jersey cattle.

SHORT OF BREATH
Could Hardly Walk Without Resting.

When you go to a physician to be examined for any heart trouble, one of the first questions he asks is: "Are you short of breath?"

Now, when the heart becomes affected there ensues a feeling of a choking sensation, a shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensation, dizziness and a weak, sinking, all gone feeling of oppression and anxiety.

On the first sign of the heart becoming weakened or the nerves unstrung Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy you require. They regulate and stimulate the heart, and strengthen and restore the whole nerve system.

Mr. Stephen Crouse, East Clifford, N.S., writes: "I suffered for five years with heart trouble. I could hardly walk from the house to the barn without resting, as I used to get so short of breath. Doctors could not help me. My wife told me to get a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and I felt better after taking them; three boxes made me quite well. I am now helping my son to work the farm, and can truthfully say I feel like a different man."

The Need of Fleets

World Needs A Country That is Prepared to Testify to its Faith In the League of Nations

Even after the United States had declared war on Germany there was a tendency on the part of the United States navy department—if Admiral Sims is to be believed—to allow anti-British sentiment to embarrass the close co-operation that the situation demanded. It is clear, however, that the professional rivalries of a few elderly men can no more estrange the two great English-speaking nations than can the antipathies of Irish-American and German-American politics, if the mass of the citizens in each country is determined that mutual good-will must be the basis of their international relations. What the world needs badly at the present moment is a country that is prepared to testify to its faith in the League of Nations by some overt act involving the reduction of its ability to strike at its political enemies. No nation is in a better position to do this than Great Britain, and no nation can better apply the money so saved to constructive, as opposed to destructive, effort. A comparatively large army we must have for many years to come, if we are to perform our international obligations and compel our beaten enemies to live up to theirs. Great fleets we do not now need any more than the United States needs them, and, unlike the United States, we cannot afford them. The proud traditions of the navy can well be preserved by strict attention to quality rather than to quantity. A great war between any powers, especially between Great Britain and the United States—is out of the question for another twenty years. By that time the Armadas of today will all be ready for the scrap-heap. What a pity, then, to waste the money.—The Irish Times.

Cause of High Prices

The Cure is Beyond the Power of the Legislators

The figures given in the Statist show that the cost of living is still increasing, and that in the cases of 45 representative commodities the present price is three times that of 1913.

In the main the rise is due to more fundamental causes, and the cure is beyond the powers of legislators. The world during the four years has devoted a great deal of its energies to the destruction of life and property. It has ceased to devote its surplus produce to new productive developments; it has used up that surplus and pledged its credit, and has nothing to show for its efforts except an escape from a political peril. Until production recovers and credit is restored, the relation between the value of money and of goods cannot begin to move back towards the normal.—The Westminster Gazette.

World's Wheat Supplies

Estimated at 50,250,000 Tons From 1920 Crop

According to cable advices from London, the commissioner on wheat supplies estimates the yield from Canada, Australia, New Zealand the United States, Argentina, Algeria, Rumania and India, will be 50,250,000 tons. These figures, submitted to the British Board of Trade, refer to the 1920 crop.

The import wheat and rye requirements of the United Kingdom are given as 5,700,000 tons, and South Africa 100,000.

Edmonton Wants Penitentiary

The city council of Edmonton has made a definite offer to the Dominion government to acquire the penitentiary buildings and site, offering $275,000 for the premises. The council also decided to submit a bylaw to the ratepayers for authority to issue debentures for the erection of a concrete grandstand at the exhibition grounds.

Irrigated Land Brings High Prices

American Farmer Purchases Land At $130 An Acre

"Fame of Alberta's irrigated districts and the favorable exchange situation in Canada for Americans is bringing much wealth to southern Alberta," writes a correspondent from Lethbridge. "Farmers in the United States who have made a comfortable pile are looking for land where they can get a sure crop every year, where they do not have to depend on wheat, and which will last and will not wear out.

"It is becoming well known through the United States that the irrigated lands in Southern Alberta give as good returns as the far famed wheat lands in their own country. That more attention is being paid to Southern Alberta's irrigated lands is well shown by two sale just closed.

"For irrigated land at Coaldale, Alberta, a farmer from Wyoming has just paid $130 an acre. No buildings or other improvements were included in this consideration. In the other case, the purchaser sold his land in Iowa for $450 an acre, exchanged his money into Canadian currency, which gave him an added $54 an acre, came to Alberta and purchased irrigated land at Coaldale for $100 an acre. This man has two sons.

Co-Operative Wool Marketing in The West

Farmers' Co-Operative Organization Which Handles the Sale Of Wool

The Canadian Wool Growers, Ltd., a farmers' co-operative organization which handles the sale of most of the wool produced in Canada, has now 1,923 shareholders. Of these, 800 are in the west, 254 in Manitoba; 313 in Saskatchewan and 233 in Alberta.

The total amount of wool handled last year was 3,811,366 pounds of which 2,803,443 was contributed by the west. All the western wool was sold excepting 225,000 pounds, which the association decided to buy from the shippers at what they expressed would be the market price so as to close up the business for the year.

The close of the war killed the demand for coarser wool and made slow sales, but a better demand is to be expected as a depletion of the flocks in Australia, New Zealand and the Argentine is reported.

Self-made men are scarce, but self-made fools are plentiful.

Korean Alphabet

Consists of Fourteen Consonants and Eleven Vowels

One of the first acts of Japan, upon taking over Korea, was to forbid the printing of books in anything but Japanese characters. On-mun, the script of Korea, is altogether different from the language of China and Japan, and was at first despised because it was "so easy that even women could learn it in a month." The script is ascribed by Korean annals to the year 1447, when the King of Korea, resolving to assert his independence by abandoning the use of Chinese writing as the official medium of correspondence, invented an alphabet to suit the special requirements of the vernacular. The Korean alphabet consists of fourteen consonants and eleven vowels. The characters are of an extreme simplicity, contrasting strongly with the complex Chinese. There are no pronouns of the first and second person, the third, with relational particles, serving for both.

Minard's Liniment used by Physicians

Farmers Are Optimistic

Plenty of Moisture This Year to Ensure Rapid Growth

Though seeding has been delayed this year, farmers generally are feeling very optimistic regarding their crop prospects; and they have reason so to feel. It is many seasons since the reserve of moisture in the soil was so great as it is this year. The seed, once planted, may be expected to germinate rapidly and the available moisture is more than sufficient to insure a steady growth of the plants for many weeks.

The area of land in crop in the three provinces should be larger than last year's. Many districts report considerably more land having been prepared. In view of the later planting, however, it is doubtful if there will be any increase in the area sown to wheat, though there is likely to be more oats, barley and flax sown than last year. Reliable predictions as to this are, however, still somewhat premature.

Last spring 17,703,467 acres were seeded to wheat, 9,452,386 acres to barley and 1,068,014 to flax.

Consider Question Of Representative At Washington

Washington. — Plans for the full diplomatic representation of Canada in Washington are now before President Wilson, and until he has acted on them, it is not expected that any formal steps will be taken at Ottawa to forward the project. The extent of the functions of the proposed Canadian representative has not yet been defined but the general understanding is that he will be limited to treatment of matters of purely American-Canadian interest, leaving questions involving general policies to be dealt with by the British ambassador.

As the state department has now taken under consideration the question created by the difficulties experienced in securing pulpwood from Canada for United States use, it is believed that a decision of the question of Canadian diplomatic representation here will be hastened as this question is regarded as one peculiarly proper for direct negotiation between Canada and the United States.

Will Evacuate German Towns

Whole German Force in Ruhr District Must be Reduced to 10,00 by June 10

Paris.—Premier Millerand, in making a declaration to the chamber of deputies on the results of the supreme council meeting at San Remo, said that the Frankfurt and Darmstadt territories would be evacuated by the French as soon as the allied commissions had established that the German armed force over the number allowed by the convention of August, 1919, had been withdrawn.

The whole German forces in the Ruhr region, the premier declared, must be reduced to 10,000 men by June 10 next, and by July 10 all the German soldiers must be withdrawn and replaced by a police force of 10 thousand men.

"I said at San Remo," M. Millerand continued, "and I repeat it here, now, that it is a crime and stupidity to believe that France desires to annex any fresh German territory.

"The details of the treaty with Turkey cannot be divulged before Turkey's plenipotentiaries come to Paris on May 10, but I can say that the treaty is in conformity with the outline already made public, the Turks being maintained in Constantinople and in the territories in which they are in the majority.

"An appeal has been sent to President Wilson asking him if his country cannot take up the mandate for Armenia, at least to collaborate in the fixing of the frontiers of the new state."

In conclusion, M. Millerand declared that upon leaving San Remo, the allies were more united than ever.

"If I may be permitted to say it, especially the entente between France and her sister of the Latin race is closer than ever," he said.

The premier's remarks received deep attention, but no enthusiasm was displayed in the chamber.

Attempted Bank Robbery

Ottawa.—La Banque Nationale at Gatineau Point, about three miles from Ottawa, was entered by robbers, and although persistent attempts were made to open the safe in the office, the burglars departed with very little booty. The safe baffled all attempts at opening and although the robbers managed to damage the hinges, the door could not be opened. It is believed the effort was made by residents of the district.

Toronto Civic Debt Reduced

Toronto.—Toronto's civic debt has decreased during the year to the extent of $2,300,000, according to a report issued by the finance commissioner. This is the first time in 17 years that there has been a reduction. The net debt now stands at $74,353,862.

Railway Accident Takes Heavy Toll

Distressing and Pathetic Scenes Were Enacted in Train Wreck Near Delhi

Bombay. — Extremely distressing and pathetic scenes were enacted in the train wreck on the Oudh and Rohilkhand railway east of Delhi, on Saturday, when 150 passengers were either killed on burned to death. Only a few of the large number of women and children on the trains escaped burning, while there were only three survivors of the Hindu marriage parties.

As a result of the collision the gas installation caught fire and the flames spread rapidly. The uninjured Indians fled terror-stricken to the jungle. Those remaining watched helplessly while the screaming victims slowly roasted to death. The medical arms aboard the train were totally inadequate to give the necessary assistance. Several British aboard escaped injury.

After the accident pools of molten silver were found in the vicinity resulting from the melting of the boards of rupees many Indians carcy about with them.

May Redeem Property

Vancouver Court Refuses To Grant Foreclosure Before Opportunity is Given

Vancouver, B. C.—German holders of Vancouver property will be given a fair chance to avoid foreclosure and the right to redeem, according to a ruling made in the supreme court by Justice MacDonald. Before the war, Countess Mira Dorchoff, Countess Elsa Fornhoff and Count Bigoslav Dornhoff, of Berlin, Germany, purchased an apartment house in this city for $90,000, paying $36,000 cash and assuming a mortgage. The amount remaining unpaid amounts to $22,000, and today a local firm asked for foreclosure. The defendants are asking for delay to enable a defence to be entered, and this the judge was inclined to grant.

Dwellers In Tents

Winnipeg Mayor In Sympathy With Those Attempting to Fight Housing Problem

Winnipeg.—That he was in complete sympathy with persons desiring to establish themselves in tents and shacks during the summer months to get away from high rents and housing difficulties, was the statement of Mayor Gray recently.

"The city," he said, "should be very lenient with regard to the placing of tents and shacks, particularly on and along the river bank. Citizens should not be forced to comply with all the civic regulations at such a time as this when it is impossible to secure sufficient accommodation."

Canada's Assets Have Increased

Ottawa. — A return tabled in the house of commons shows that Canada's total assets at the end of 1919 were $1,087,537,461.27, on which the country received as interest $15,732,775.29 or 1.46 percent. This rate was more than twice as high than in 1918, when the country received as interest $7,421,001.58, on total assets of $1,102,104,692.33.

Will Have Law Amended If Necessary to Stop Profiteering, Says Raney

Toronto.—Delving further into the recent investigation of the Hamilton Wholesale Grocers' Association, Hon. W. E. Raney, in the legislature, stated that further action to secure a conviction is to be taken by his department.

"The public may be assured that the matter will not be allowed to rest," the attorney-general promised. "The government of this province will take steps to ascertain whether the legal resources of the public and the consumers, under the existing laws, have been exhausted. If it is found that they have, this government will endeavor to ascertain what changes in the law are necessary to put the laws of this country and this province on at least as good a footing as the laws of the United States. When the laws have been brought to that point, this government will undertake to see that they are properly enforced through the courts of this province."

Mr. Raney explained that he proposed to obtain the opinion of expert counsel as to whether the present law applied to the case. If these opinions were that the law did apply, prosecutions would be authorised; if to the contrary, representations would be made to secure changes in the law.

Railway Charter Refused

Dr. Reid Declares the Gaspe Line Could Not Be Made To Pay

Ottawa.—By a majority of only two votes the railway committee of the house of commons has refused to grant a charter to the Pabos and Edmunston railway company to construct a 248-mile road through the interior of the Gaspe peninsula. A number of members, led by Dr. J. D. Reid, minister of railways, took the stand that such a road could not be built and maintained as an independent line; and the government would be almost inevitably compelled to take over the road later on to make it go or at least subsidize it.

"The day of subsidies is gone, I think," said Dr. Reid amidst great applause in the committee. He said that the provinces should make themselves responsible for such railway charters as a factor in the develop of natural resources.

The vote by which the application was rejected was 31 against 29 supporting.

Close Victory Loan Transfer Book

Ottawa.— Notice is given by the finance department that on account of the interest payments due June 1, the transfer books of the 1915-25 war loan and the 1917 Victory Loan will be closed from April 30 to May 31 inclusive. Bonds which are received at the department for transfer after April 30 will not be transferred until after the opening of the transfer books on June 1.

Cost of Victory Loan

Canvassers Were Paid Million Dollars in Commissions

Ottawa. — A total of $1,110,402.37 was paid out by minister of finance in commissions to canvassers and brokers who handled the last Victory Loan. These fees ran proportionally higher in Quebec province than elsewhere; $352,952.17 was paid on this head in Quebec, representing 22 per cent of the total subscriptions to the loan. In Nova Scotia $57,575 was paid out, or 20 percent of the subscriptions. In Saskatchewan the figures are $38,900, or 18 percent; in New Brunswick $27,500, or 17 percent; in Ontario $538,670, or 15 percent; in Manitoba $54,200, or 13 percent; in Alberta $19,150, or 11 percent; and in British Columbia $22,455 or 6 percent. Prince Edward Island did not cost the federal government anything in brokerage or commissions.

Protest Against Canadian Cattle

The minister of agriculture received another influential deputation protesting against the permission given some time ago for the importation of of a hundred Friesian cattle from Canada and expressing fear that the importation of other herds would be sanctioned. The deputation was told that the reasons were exceptional and a strict quarantine would be imposed, and assured that three was no intention of relaxing the restrictions against store cattle.

Allies on Rhine

London.— The number of British troops on the Rhine is approximately 14,000 according to a statement made in the house of commons by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war. There are 25,000 French troops in that district, 16,000 United States and 20,000 Belgian.

Poles Defeat Bolsheviks

Fifteen Thousand Prisoners Captured With 60 Cannon and Hundreds Of Machine Guns

Warsaw. — The resistance of the Bolsheviki has been broken in South Ukraine, according to an official communique which announces that the Poles have captured Mohilev and are now moving southeast alongside the Dneister.

The Poles have captured 15,000 prisoners, 60 cannon, hundreds of machine guns and 76 locomotives since their offensive began.

Prisoners' Treatment Humane

Detention of Men Without Trial Is Rendered Necessary Owing To Conditions

Liverpool.—The lord mayor of Liverpool, Burton W. Ellis, communicated to a deputation from the Irish Self-Determination League, a telegram he had received from Edward Shortt, secretary for home affairs, with regard to the treatment of the Irish prisoners in the Wormwood Scrubbs jail.

"The deputation you received," the telegram says, "is misinformed regarding the Irish prisoners in Wormwood Scrubs. Their custody is legal and their treatment humane. Those who, by their refusal of food are endangering their lives, are being carefully tended and if necessary will be removed to a hospital.

"The detention of these men had been rendered necessary by the atrocious murders which prevail in Ireland and a system which prevents the trial of the murderers and accomplices."

Gas Attack on Grasshoppers

Ottawa.—Use of gas to combat the grasshopper plague in the West is to be tried after all, it is announced. O. R. Gould, member for Assiniboia, has been assured by the minister of agriculture, also the department of scientific research that tests will be made. Gas of one-fifth the strength of that used in the trenches will be tried out. This could have little effect upon human beings, it is stated.

For Destroying U-Boat

Canadian D.S.O. Major Rewarded For Work on U.S. Seaplane

Ottawa.—Major Basil D. Hobbs, D. S.O., whose home is in Soo, has received a prize bounty of £90 for the destruction of a German submarine, the UC.5, which was sunk while he was in command of an American seaplane.

The announcement of the award was made in a recent list of similar prizes which had been issued by the prize court of the British Admiralty.

The submarine was carrying a crew of 18 men when destroyed, and the award was made on the basis of £5 for each member aboard her. Major Hobbs is one of the Canadians who became famous while serving overseas with the Royal Air Force, and in addition to the submarine for which the award was made, he is credited with the destruction of others, as well as that of a Zeppelin.

Woods, editor and managing director of the Calgary Herald, has been created a chevalier of the Order of Leopold by King Albert of Belgium, and on behalf of his majesty the star of the order was presented to him by H. DeBurlet, Belgian consul at Calgary, at a public ceremony. The honor was conferred on Mr. Woods because of his signal services during the war as the secretary-treasurer of the Belgian relief committee for southern Alberta. Addresses were made at the ceremony by Mayor R. C. Marshall, and A. Allen, the chairman of the Belgian Relief Committee, and Mrs. Harold Riley of the women's auxiliary of the committee.

Treaty to be Discontinued

French Trade Treaty Will Cease to Have Effect on June Nineteen

Ottawa.—Mr. Fernand Rinfret (St. James), was informed in the house that notice had been given of the intention to terminate the trade treaty between France and Canada. This would cease to have effect on June 19 of this year.

Mr. Rinfret was also informed that the government was aware that customs officers in Canada estimate the customs duties according to the nominal value of foreign monies and not in accordance with the current exchange rates.

The government had no intention of changing this practice.

Britain Will Not Interfere

Government Will Make no Representations to Canada About Labor

London.—The colonial under secretary, replying to a question by Lieut.-Col. Malone on the subject that labor in the colonies and dominions was more severly treated than in this country, said:

"I would point out that the self-governing dominions are original members of the international labor organization. Col. Malone may be assured that leaders in the Winnipeg strike will not be subject to treatment more harsh than people in this country."

Mr. Bonar Law said: "I think we can leave the Canadian government to fulfill their obligations under the treaty."

Colonel Malone asked: "Will the British representatives make representations to them?"

Mr. Law said the reply to the question was in the negative. If he had any want of faith in the proper conduct of a self-governing dominion it would be a very bad lookout.

Lord Mayor of Dublin Returns

Released from Wormwood Scrubs; But Was Threatened With Rearrest if he Returned

Dublin.—Tom T. Kelly, lord mayor of Dublin and Sinn Fein member of parliament, who was released from Wormwood Scrubs prison in England because of ill health, has returned to Dublin. It is said that he will not be able to take office because of the effects of his incarceration.

He had been under arrest since May 25, 1916, on charges growing out of the Irish revolt of that year.

A despatch from London February 17, said Kelly's release was due to his state of health. Order of internment, it was added, was not revoked, and it was stated that Kelly was informed he would be arrested again if he made attempt to return to Ireland. During his convalescence Kelly was ordered to report his movements to the authorities.

Make Increased Demands

Advance in Wages of 25 Percent Is Demanded by the Winnipeg Building Trades

Winnipeg.—Demands for a straight increase of 25 percent in wages was made by the building trade workers before the public meeting of the provincial fair wage board held today. General dissatisfaction was expressed against the proposed schedule of wages arrived at by the board. A. Cameron, of the carpenter's union, made the declaration that unless more wages are granted the building trade workers of the city, there will be a general migration to the States and other centres where the wages are higher and the cost of living lower. It was claimed that the costs of living had increased 133 percent since 1914, by delegates to the meeting of the board. Working on this basis the general rate of wages should be $1.50 per hour instead of around $1.25.

The fundamental cause for all strikes, said James Winning, former president of the Trades and Labor council, is the long time that is taken by various boards in conducting negotiations and arriving at some decision. He objected to the fair wage board making its findings public until after the builders' exchange has presented its schedule to the workers.

No Appointments For Governor-General

London.—In reference to a report from New York to the London Daily News that Canada had turned down two nominations for governor-General—namely, the Earl of Athlone and Lord Byng—Sir George Perley, Canadian high commissioner, states that neither appointment has ever been discussed except by the newspapers.

Discussion Over Continuation of Wheat Board

Germany Is Pleased

Invitation to Attend Conference Is Welcomed As A Token of Equality

Berlin.—The invitation extended by the supreme council to the German government to send representatives to the conference is viewed by George Bernhard in the Vossiche Zeitung as a signal improvement in Germany's diplomatic position. "Germany thereby being delivered from the shackles of its enforced isolation."

The co-operation of Germany, and France and Belgium will form the nucleus of a next active policy to work out a European confraternity, he adds.

The semi-official Algemeine Zeitung discussing the destruction of war material under the treaty in state arsenals and about 25,000 private workshops, expresses the hope that the Entente will relax demands for surrender of all resulting waste material which now constitutes virtually the sole raw material for keeping the iron and steel foundries in operation, since the supplies of ore from Lorraine, Luxembourg and other places have ceased.

Dr. Adolf Koester, minister of foreign affairs, in an interview published by the Allgemeine Zeitung, said he welcomed the Entente's invitation to Germany to send representatives to the conference at Spa.

"We presume," he added, "that the negotiations will be between two partners equally convinced of the necessity of firmly reconstructing Europe and we hope to show our former opponents that we have the earnest wish to fulfil the peace treaty to the utmost limit of our capacity."

Dr. Koester regrets that the statement of the allied governments did not mention the occupation of Frankfurt and the Main district; since the number of troops in the neutral zone was now only 17,000, which was allowed by the agreement of 1919.

"In these circumstances," he continued, "the occupation of the Main district is superfluous. Consequently we have instructed the president of the German peace conference delegation to ask the ambassadors' conference when the illegal operation of the Main district will terminate."

Fiume Again Blokaded

Communications to the Town Have Now Been Completely Severed

Trieste. — The blockage which Fiume is now undergoing is admittedly the most severe to which it has been subjected. The communications of the town have been completely cut off, regular Italian troops tearing up sections of the railway and bringing up numbers of machine guns to guard the frontiers. Passage in and out of the city is absolutely forbidden, not even milk going in, and connection with the outside world by the sea route has been completely severed. Gabriele D'Annunzio, the insurgent commander-in-chief, is threatening counter action.

Ex-Governor of Kiel Arrested

Berlin.— Rear-Admiral Von Levetow, former governor of Kiel, has been arrested and sent to Leipzig, according to a brief message from Kiel received by the Lokal Anzeiger. His removal was beset with great difficulties, as attempts were made to assault him by the crowds.

Extend Time Limit for Income Tax Returns

Ottawa. — Orders have been sent out from the finance department extending the time for filing income tax returns for the whole of the Dominion to May 31.

Ottawa.—The question of the continuation of the wheat board to handle the Canadian wheat crop for 1920 has recently been to the fore. The western members of parliament have been discussing the question and it is understood a thorough review of the whole subject is under way in a special committee.

Meantime, the wheat board is getting nearer to the close of its work and the question of the value of the participation certificates now in the hands of the farmers, is acquiring renewed interest. It will be impossible, until the close of the year's business, to finally decide their value.

Hon. Arthur Meighen refused to express an opinion as to what the participation shares would be worth, or as to the wisdom of continuing the board's operations into the 1920 crop season.

"I hope," he said, "that the farmers who hold the participation certificates will not sell them. It would be most unfortunate if these certificates got into the hands of speculators. Every man who purchased the wheat should hold his participation certificates and thus get himself all that his product brought in the world's markets.

Strikers Appeal to King George

Resolution is Sent to His Majesty on Behalf of Convicted Winnipeg Leaders

Winnipeg.—King George has been appealed to by the labor leaders' defence committee for the release of the convicted strike leaders.

A copy of a resolution passed at the recent convention has been forwarded to His Majesty and copies have also been sent to the minister of justice and the governor general of Canada. In the resolution it is claimed that the trades unions of the city voted for the strike and were therefore responsible for the same. There was no intention whatever to overthrow the existing forms of government and that an injustice has been done to labor and the men convicted.

Japanese Massacred

Warships Are Rushed to Eastern Siberia With Troops

Washington. —Japanese guards in the district of Nikolaevsk, eastern Siberia, are believed to have been annihilated and several hundred Japanese residents, including the Japanese consul there, massacred, according to an official statement issued by the Japanese foreign office, and made public today by the state department.

The Japanese statement says the suspension of communication with the district rendered it impossible to get at the real state of affairs, but that it was evident that a serious upheavad had taken place. Efforts of the Japanese to despatch military relief expeditions into the district had failed because of the ice. Meantime, however, the Japanese have sent an expedition to Alexandrovski, accompanied by the warships Mikasa and Mishima. The forces reached their destination on April 22 and found the Japanese residents in that district safe. Most of them were taken aboard the Mikasa.

Insure Against Danger of Prohibition

London.—"Pussyfoot" insurance is the term which has been applied to a rate of 10 shillings per one hundred pounds sterling, now being offered in the London market, to cover the risk of the passing of an act of parliament within 12 months prohibiting the sale of alcoholic liquors in England.

Millions Involved In Merging of Big Steel Interests

Montreal.—Directors of the Canadian Steamship Lines, Limited, the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Company, and the Dominion Steel Corporation, received and considered the proposals made by the interests behind the $500-000,000 steel, coal and shipping organization to be known as the British Empire Steel Corporation, and formally consented to the transfer of securities involved, subject to the consent of the shareholders of the three interests which are to form the Canadian nucleus of the big consolidation.

According to the statement issued by Col. W. Grant-Morden, the terms will be ready for publication in a day or two, and special general meetings of the companies involved will be called in the near future.

Col. Morden stated that the initial share capital issue of the new corporation will be $205,000,000, but declined to state into what amount of first, second and third, preferred and common stocks would be divided.

In addition to the three companies mentioned above, the consolidation would embrace the Halifax Shipyards Company, the Davis Shipbuilding Company of Levis, the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company, together with the latter's Kingston subsidiary, the Maritime Nail Company of St. John, N.S., and possibly several other allied industries.

Villainous Plot Is Uncovered By U. S. Officials

Washington. — Plots against the lives of more than a score of federal and state officials have been discovered by the department of justice as part of radical May Day demonstrations, Attorney-General Palmer has announced.

Assassinations and assaults, Mr. Palmer said, were included in the May Day program organized by the communist Labor Party and other radical elements, and were in addition to the strikes and other disturbances intended by the radicals as an effort on behalf of peace with Soviet Russia.

State officials marked as victims were notified by the department. The department has information, according to the attorney-General, that the instigators of the May Day demonstrations here have been working "in direct connection and unison" with the leaders of disturbances set for Europe. As in Europe threats were made to incite strikes in all basic industries.

All the propaganda, making May Day disturbances, referred to "inhumman treatment" of the Soviet government of Russia by the United States and the Allied powers, Mr. Palmer continued. In foreign sections of industrial centres appeals for "peace with Russia" have been employed as the main method in stirring up dissatisfaction with this government.

The Communist labor party also sent numerous personal emissaries into cities where the field was deemed ripe. These men have been undr constant surveillance by Federal agents, and it was through their activities that the government was first able to establish definitely the aim of the group for May Day disturbances.

Resolution No. 11, Policy

Declaration of principles.

The Great War Veteran's Association of Canada, in convention assembled, realizing that the people of the Dominion expect from them a full declaration of the principles for which Association stands, and that they are justified in this expectation, hereby declare:

1 That the foundation principle upon which this our Association rests is national service and that we unreservedly commit ourselves to a standard of service for Canada and the British Empire, in the work of national development as full, as self-sacrificing, and as free from personal motives as that rendered by our army overseas;

2 That we pledge ouselves to the common service of our country, acknowledging no preeminence in our Association except devotion in the building up of our national life.

3 That we reject for our Association and ourselves any claim to special or peculiar favors, based on our military services, simply demanding our just right as returned citizens of this country to be placed on an equality with our fellow citizens who were not privileged to serve.

4 We hold to be inherently just, and only worthy of this Great Nation that the dependents of our deceased comrades, who willingly gave their lives that this land should be free and our disable comrades should be given by the government of our country such penalons and allowances as will enable them to live acording to the accepted standard of our people.

5 We desire to re-affirm our unswerving loyalty to King and Country, and while we deplore the existence of many conditions, political, religious, racial and social, which are harmful and pernicious, we also realize that lasting betterment can only be obtained by the free expression of the people's will, given in a constitutional way. Therefore, while we dedicate ourselves to the elimination of such unjust conditions and pledge ourselves to lawful and orderly procedure.

6 While as an Association we recognize no political affiliations, or any kind, we yet urge upon our membership an intelligent interest in all political matters and commend to their support such of our comrades as may from time to time present themselves for political honors, provided always that such candidate pledge himself to the support of just legislation, whether within or without the party to which he or she may be attached.

7 The Great War Veteran's Association by the complexion of its membership, feels itself in happy and harmonious touch with the representatives of both capital and labor. Members of each class fought together and died together in France and Flanders. In that common sacrifice all distinctions of mere wealth were blotted out and lesson taught us was, that devotion to a common cause makes all men brethern. In our earnest desire for a greater, freer and happier Canada, we offer our service as mediator. We recognize that greed on the part of the employer or the employed has a large share in the production of industrial unrest, and we further recognize that much of such unrest is caused by misunderstandings, sometimes deliberately fomented which are capable of amicable adjustment. We stand for the recognition of the principle of humanity in industry and labor, for a fair wage, for a fair day's work, for a return on capital, which shall be just and equitable and for such shortening of the hours of labor as will permit the working man to play his part in the duties and pleasures of a citizen's life, while at the same time enabling him to increase production to the maximum rate.

8 Believing that the national life is a reflection of the home life of the nation's individual citizens it is essential that the Federal Government inaugurate a broad and comprehensive housing scheme, which will enable every citizen to own a house, thus giving that healthy, comfortable, secure satisfaction so essential to good citizenship.

9 We affirm our conviction that the natural resources of our Dominion should be developed to the advantage of Canada, and not for the private benefit of the speculator or thefinancial opportunist, who has not assumed the responsibilities of our citizenship. We believe that a vigorous policy not influenced by consideration for a favored few, but guided for the good of the toiling many and the greater prosperity of Canada. We believe such development should be comprehensive national undertaking not dictated or compelled by sectionalism, party or political pressure, or personal ambition but solely inspired and completely regulated with a view to adding to the wealth, safety and prosperity of our Dominion.

10 Realizing that education is a basic principle in the prosperity, stability, development and happiness of a country, we believe that adequate educational facilities, should be provided for Canadian children, and that the ordinary education required to prepare the Canadian boy or girl for life's work, should be provided free by the State, so that all may have equal educational privileges. To this end, we believe that where necessary, special provision should be made for the education of the orphans of our dead and disabled comrades. We believe further in the development of a greater patriotic spirit by emphasizing in our in our schools, the great history and literature of our country and empire, and by inculcating in our youth a greater respect for our flag and a deeper understanding of the ideals it presents.
